A LETTER FROM Sierra Vista

There are so many great things going on at Sierra Vista, I hardly know where to begin.

Sierra Vista is fortunate to have many very generous and very loyal supporters. Individuals and businesses give in so many ways...they give their time, they give their talents and they give financially.

It would be a challenge to meet the needs of the 18,000+ children and families we serve each year without the generous support of you in our communities who share our passion for helping others.

One supporter recently found a way to fulfill his own dream while making dreams come true for the children and youth in our Foster Care Programs.

In February, Tony Youga, former CFO of E. & J. Gallo Winery, and husband of our own Pat Youga (former Sierra Vista HR Director) decided he was going to ride his bicycle across the United States to raise funds for our foster youth. He began in San Diego and completed his ride in St. Augustine Florida, the oldest city in the United States. My husband and I had the amazing experience of greeting Tony as he arrived on the beach in St. Augustine. Be sure to read the article inside this Newsletter.

Our 26th Annual Golf Tournament was another wonderful success. We have the BEST golf committee any organization could ask for. Many of them have been on the committee for 10+ years. Rick Kindle started our golf tournament and has been the chair of the committee for 26 years. Supporting our events and giving your time is a very generous way to give. We are grateful to everyone on the committee and to our sponsors and players.

Our Family Resource Centers are strengthening families by assisting them in accessing resources in their communities, providing Parent Education Programs, Health and Nutrition Education, Mental Health Services and Healthy Birth Outcomes Classes. The goal of our Family Resource Centers is to provide services to the family that will allow them to be self-sufficient and to help them feel like they are part of a community that cares. We are changing lives, one family at a time.

Also in this edition of Reaching Out, you will meet our Board of Directors. These individuals give time, talents, treasures and financial support. They are our liaisons out in the community, our business advisors and our cheerleaders. They have a passion for our vision of "A Commitment to Caring".

I hope you enjoy reading about Sierra Vista and if you would like to help us make a difference just give us a call.

BREAK THE SILENCE

Sierra Vista Resource Centers raise human trafficking awareness

Sierra Vista Promotoras from our North Modesto, Hughson, and Drop-In Family Resource Centers provided a mental health wellness event, “Break the Silence and Know the Signs” on February 23, 2018, to the Spanish speaking community of Stanislaus County at the Salvation Red Shield Center in Modesto. Approximately 160 participants and community agencies participated in this event. The focus of this event was for participants to learn about the early signs of mental health conditions and ways to support their mental health and the safety of their families.

Staff shared information on the RAIZ Promotoras program and the focus to educate Latino families on mental health and wellness. A presentation was provided on how trauma can be linked to depression as well as other mental health conditions. Participants also learned about the mental health campaign, Each Mind Matters, to be aware of the signs of suicide. The keynote speaker, from Without Permission, provided an informative presentation on human trafficking along with life stories and statistics. For many, this was the first time participants learned about human trafficking and how Modesto is one of the hotspots to sell and buy victims. Another presentation was provided by Stanislaus District Attorneys -Victims Services which spoke about the services they offer to victims of violent crimes. The Sheriff’s Department also provided a presentation on how they help Latino families in the community with crimes. During the break, a Zumba group from Red Shield provided Zumba to relieve stress and tension from the heavy topic. Information and resources were available via booth tables representing other agencies in Stanislaus County such as United Way, El Concilio, Stanislaus Family Justice Center, and Golden Valley Health Centers along with others.

In the end, all three presenters made themselves available in a panel to answer questions the participants had. Many positive comments were made throughout the event from participants and agencies on the success of the event.

EVERY CHILD HAS A DREAM

It's not a race, it's an adventure!

The chilly weather of February evokes an array of images—perhaps the least likely of which is one of a man at the start of a great adventure. But that's precisely when Tony Youga started off on his journey across the states. It was a journey with incredible purpose.

“When I graduated college, I had a dream to bike around Lake Michigan, about 800 miles,” said Youga. “When I discussed it with my mom, her words were simple: ‘Be Safe.’ While the words were few, the meaning was very impactful. As always in life, my mom and dad encouraged me to pursue my dreams. They never doubted that I could achieve them.”

Although this particular dream was never realized, Youga had plenty of others. Youga set off on a 3,000 mile quest to ride his bicycle from San Diego, California to the Atlantic Ocean in St. Augustine. It was a journey that'd take nearly two to three months, with over 60 days of riding and averaging at around 50 miles a day. He elected to ride alone, followed in a rented RV by his wife Patty as well as the family dog and co-pilot, Lucky.

From the very start, Youga made it clear that this was an adventure—not a race. His goal? To discover America and her people while helping underserved children and families by funding the programs and services of Sierra Vista Child & Family Services through 100 percent of the donations that were gathered from this beautiful journey.

Tony and Patty Youga's passion for the organization began when Patty joined Sierra Vista as the HR Director in 2000 while Tony was the CFO of E. & J. Gallo Winery. Patty retired after 17 wonderful years with the agency, and over the years they have still been constant supporters of the organization and believe in the mission of changing the lives of children and families. Pat saw firsthand how Sierra Vista positively impacted the underserved children in the Central Valley and always shared these tales at home over dinner.

Now retired, as part of their journey, they are going to raise money to help children realize their dreams. Donors were encouraged to donate a penny, nickel or dime per mile or more. Tony and Patty agreed to match all donations up to the first $10,000, and all money goes directly to the Foster Care & Adoption Program at Sierra Vista Child & Family Services.

“Both of us love this organization and the amazing work it does in serving the underserved youth. We decided that we would like to help some of these children to realize their dreams. Usually their biggest dream is to be reunited with their mom and dad,” said Youga.

“It is sad to say that, in most cases, this dream will not be realized. However, we can support Sierra Vista in providing them a safe place to sleep, clothes, a warm meal, and a foster family that loves them as if they are their own children.” Although the way was far from easy, it was a task that was more than worth it for Youga. He took to the streets in spite of the perils—like a dangerous tunnel between Apache Junction and Globe, Arizona or the wild dogs and unsettling camping experiences between DeRidder and Ville Platte, Louisiana.

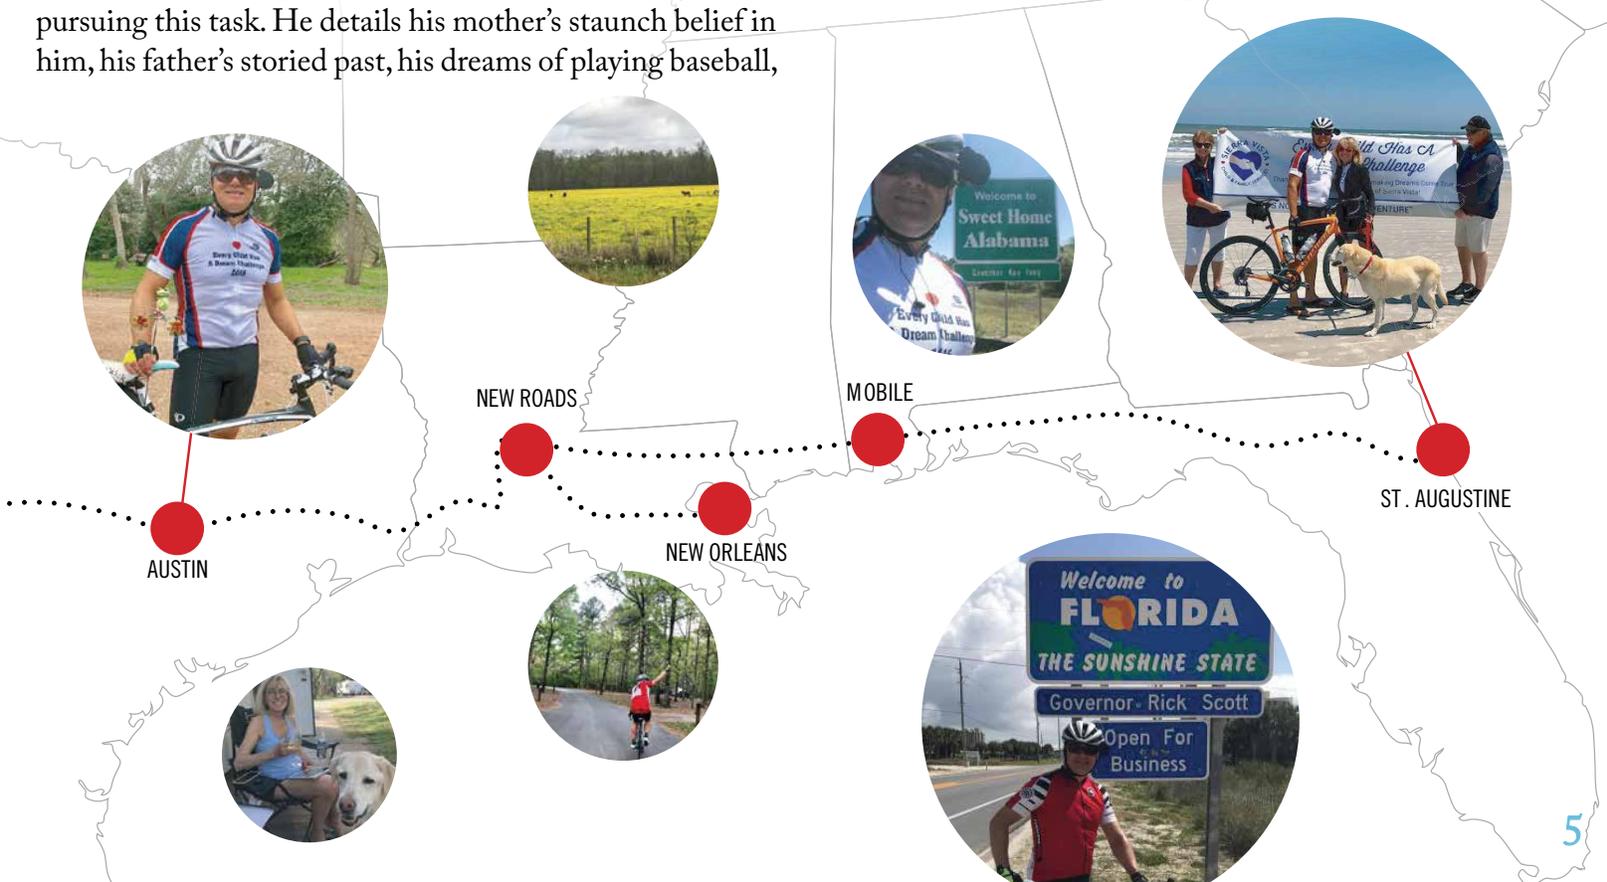

From San Diego, California to Las Cruces, New Mexico and then El Paso, Texas to Florida, Youga pedaled and logged his process in a dedicated and growing blog that told a story of his passions and ultimately his reasons for pursuing this task. He details his mother’s staunch belief in him, his father’s storied past, his dreams of playing baseball, and so much more—pulling readers into a narrative of dedication. One of his final entries, “Being a Dad,” is especially poignant considering his goals.

“As I get closer to the finish, I continue to think about the children that we are helping through your donations. Their needs are so great, and we are going to make a huge impact,” Youga writes. “The most precious moments of my life are in being ‘Dad’ to Jeff and Thomas. It is hard to believe that they are 32 and 29 now. The times of having them baptized, going to their first day of school, and being their baseball coach seem only like yesterday. They have both now graduated college and have begun their careers. At some point along the way, we went from me being the know-it-all Dad to one of joint admiration and respect. It is a nice balance in our relationship.”

It’s a familiar theme in the blogs, and one that expresses his clear gratitude for the opportunities he’s been given. Between his great adventure, his goals, and his words, Youga’s appreciation for Sierra Vista Child & Family Services is clear as the path he biked down.

COMMUNITY BABY SHOWER

»North Modesto Family Resource Center

North Modesto Family Resource Center hosted two community baby showers. A community baby shower was the perfect opportunity to create awareness for Salida residents on the services offered at the North Modesto Family Resource Center. The theme for the baby showers this year was Twinkle Twinkle Little Star.

The Healthy Birth Outcomes (HBO) staff facilitator incorporated activities for participants to interact with one another and encouraged participants to share their experience of being pregnant. Women played games, received baby gifts, delicious food and pregnancy information was provided. For the first time, we had one male participant at the Salida baby shower. Some feedback the HBO facilitator received included compliments on the food, decorations and the interactive games that took place. Participants also reported they had the opportunity to forget their daily struggles in the time the baby shower took place.

Two community partnerships developed during the planning of the baby showers, Stanislaus County Modesto Library and the Health Plan of San Joaquin. Stanislaus County Modesto Library donated bilingual books for participants, and the Health Plan of San Joaquin donated a convertible car seat.

The baby showers were successful; ten pregnant women enrolled to receive services for their families. We have seen an increase in attendance since the events. Moreover, 18 women attend the HBO program weekly.

FAMILY RESOURCE CENTERS OPEN HOUSE

»Sierra Vista Family Resource Centers

Sierra Vista Family Resource Centers hosted an Open House on April 20, 2018, in recognition of Child Abuse Prevention Month. At this special event, staff toured guests through the facility and provided information about the services offered. The focus of the event was to reach out to the neighboring businesses and community members to build a partnership. Our goal was to inform them of who we are and how our services can benefit their family and the community.

Opening the doors of our five resource centers to welcome the community, families and businesses proved to be a success. We were able to form new community connections as well as strengthen the existing partnerships. The work behind making this event successful was the outreach and word of mouth from our clients. The communities around our resource centers are more aware of our presence, and therefore we will be able to make a difference in their lives.

COMMUNITY Support

» Together we are making a difference in the life of a child, a family and our community.

SUPPORT FROM WELLS FARGO BANK

Wells Fargo was provided a tour of Sierra Vista's Kirk Baucher Non-Public School, where they were able to learn more about Sierra Vista's two non-public schools that provide special education for children K-8th grade. Our specialized settings offer individualized education services, social skills development, behavior management, crisis intervention, and family support.

Sierra Vista would like to thank Wells Fargo for their generous donation and for their willingness to help make a difference in our community by graciously providing a donation to Sierra Vista in support of our programs and services.

VALLEY FIRST CREDIT UNION BIKE DONATION

While meeting basic needs is imperative, so is providing children with a therapeutic activity that they can call their own. A bike is a gift that offers physical activity, the opportunity to meet and play with friends and even a sense of ownership to a child who enters care with the clothes on their back and little else.

It is in this spirit that we would like to give a gracious thank you to Valley First Credit Union for providing our foster and residential treatment children with over 50 bikes and safety accessories to call their own! On behalf of the children at Sierra Vista we THANK YOU!

WORDS FROM OUR BOARD MEMBERS

Making changes for our future

Sierra Vista is extremely proud and grateful for the leadership our Board of Directors provide us. They are an integral part of the success of Sierra Vista and their support continues to help us grow and provide the necessary services in our local communities. We want to recognize and appreciate the Sierra Vista Child & Family Services Board of Directors. We cannot thank you enough.

Roxanna Smith, Chairperson

“When I became aware of how far reaching SVCFS was in providing various services to our local communities, and what an impact they made on individual lives, it became apparent this was an agency that I wanted to support. Hearing repetitive scenarios of how SVCFS has assisted many families through challenges continues to motivate me to let others in our community know they can make a difference by supporting the efforts of the agency.”

George Carr, Vice-Chairperson

“I am honored to be part of such an outstanding organization. The help that is provided goes a long way, but there is still a long way to go. We will keep reaching out to those who need the help, be it a family, single parent, or a child. Sierra Vista will be there.”

Wendy Kennedy, Secretary

“I like the “culture of caring” that Sierra Vista promotes and lives by. I like the integrity with which Sierra Vista operates. And finally, I love the many programs that Sierra Vista provides to help children and families.”

Michael Donohoe, Treasurer

“To give back to the community in a meaningful way - Sierra Vista's impact is felt throughout the region. The breadth of Sierra Vista's services means that it touches the lives of a diverse group of needs within the community.”

April Heft

“The organization possesses a level of sensitivity and understanding that is paramount in working with a population of diverse, academic, cultural, disability and ethnic needs. This organization leads with its whole heart and that is imperative in the field of human services.”

Gary Ericksen

“I believe the first and best thing the community can do to support Sierra Vista is to support the mission of Sierra Vista, and this starts at home. First of all, take care of themselves and their families. Strive to be the best dad or mom, the best brother or sister and the best daughter or son. Make sure your home relationships are solid. Then as the community looks for ways to support other families outside of their own, know that Sierra Vista has programs that help most every age and stage of life – find your passion and make a difference in an individual life. Don't look at all the problems in our community and get overwhelmed, rather, find a single individual, invest in them, offering them hope, direction and ultimately a path to change.”

Molly Withrow-Cox

“I strongly believe that we each have a responsibility to devote time and resources to bettering the communities in which we live and protecting the most vulnerable within those communities. Sierra Vista is an organization that is doing just that. Becoming a Board Member for Sierra Vista is a way for me to contribute in some small way to an organization that is championing solutions to the problems facing the Central Valley.”

Patrick Dodd

“What I like most about Sierra Vista is the diversity of the work that is done in support of the children and families we serve within our community. My experience so far with staff members also has deepened my confidence in the organization and its ability to do great work.”

Rob Powell

“In addition to serving more than 20,000 children and families each year, from the top-down...the organization just oozes a “caring” spirit. It is made up of a bunch of caring people who are passionate about seeing families succeed.”

Sandi Young

“The reason I originally became a member of the Board of Directors for Sierra Vista was my experience with the non-public school. As an educator, I saw first-hand the progress the students were able to make at Kirk Baucher Non-Public School. These same students were unable to be successful in the regular public school program. With the help of teachers, clinicians, paraprofessionals and parents, Sierra Vista's students with exceptional challenges are able to learn and succeed. Since that time Sierra Vista has added the Learning Center in Turlock.”

APPRECIATING OUR RESOURCE FAMILIES

Recognizing Resource Parents for the care they provide

National Foster Care month occurs in May every year. Each May our Foster Family and Adoption Department holds an appreciation dinner for all of our Resource Families (formerly known as Foster Families), to celebrate those who give so much. This dinner is an opportunity to thank them for their dedication and commitment to serving the children in our care. Aside from caring for the children on a daily basis, our Resource Families are required to continue their training after being approved and must stay in compliance with Community Care Licensing regulations. There is a lot of behind the scenes work our families do and we take a moment at this dinner to praise their hard work and sacrifice. To show our appreciation, we present each family with a gift and family portrait. This year we were able to include and recognize our foster care mentors, who take time out of their day to meet with our children in foster care and in our Residential Treatment Program to build positive and lasting relationships.

This year's dinner theme was 70's Night. We made sure everyone "boogied" on the dance floor and posed at the photo booth for a memory to take home. It was an eventful night and we definitely could not have done it alone. We would like to thank our Marketing Department, IT Department, and the foster family staff for helping make this a successful, groovy night for our Resource Families and mentors. The foster family staff put in many long hours and were able to create a fun and successful evening! We would also like to thank our CEO, Judy Kindle, who took the time to make everyone feel welcome and who gave a speech of recognition for our Resource Families, mentors and staff. We would like to give a shout out to Kirk Baucher, one of our non-public schools for allowing us to use their facility and for all of the help setting up and cleaning up!

They say it takes a village to raise a child. We are proud to say that we are fortunate enough to be a part of a village (SV) that allows our families to receive the support and praise they deserve for creating safe, loving, and nurturing homes for children when they need it! If you, or someone you know, are interested in becoming a mentor or Resource Parent, please call Angelica Gomez at (209) 491-0872. She was the planner of this event, and she would be happy to help you join our network of wonderful Resource Parents!

MENTORING SUMMIT

One Mentor, One Child, One Hour a Week!

Our Regional Mentoring Summit theme is “Be Someone Who Matters to Someone Who Matters” and this past January, hundreds of community members, educators and local high school students spent their day learning on how they could better transform their community through mentoring. The ultimate goal of the summit is to bring together educators, businesses, and community leaders to empower them with the knowledge and skills necessary to create a culture of mentoring in our community. Through becoming mentors, advocates, and supporters, we can significantly increase a young person’s chance at a healthy, successful, and productive life.

Our morning Keynote Speaker was DeVone Boggan, Founder & CEO of Advance Peace. Advance Peace is dedicated to ending cyclical gun violence in American urban neighborhoods by investing in the development and well being of those individuals who are at the core of this crisis through mentoring. At our Summit, DeVone shared wonderful stories on the power of mentoring and how investing your time in the life of a young person can have not only a tremendous impact in their life but in our communities as a whole. He also focused on our young high school attendees by encouraging them to steer away from bullying and to do their best to help out their fellow peers by guiding them through the transition from jr. high to high school. Needless to say, everyone in attendance left with a newfound inspiration to go out and transform our beautiful community through mentoring.

Our lunch Keynote Speaker was Modesto native, Emmanuel Escamilla. Emmanuel’s powerful talk walked us through how he grew up sharing a room with his mother in a trailer on Olivero Road – better known as the “Devil’s Street.” Surrounded by alcohol, drugs, and gang violence, Emmanuel was able to always dream big thanks to his mother and the mentors that he had growing up. Now as a Berkeley graduate and current grad student at Harvard University, Emmanuel is using his experiences to give back to the community that saw him grow up. This was the inspiration for founding the CodeX program which is an educational nonprofit that exposes low-income students to computer science and technology. Through his influence as a mentor, Emmanuel is giving new hope to at-risk youth who otherwise could very well be going down a wrong path. Emmanuel was a breath of fresh air and a clear example of how mentoring is one of the most valuable tools for communities.

Participants also had the opportunity to attend two workshops out of the many offered that focused on best practices in the area of mentoring. Presenters shared their knowledge, experiences, and passion to audiences that were interested in finding out more about how mentoring can have a positive impact on a child’s life.
